

Luton Adult Learning

Promoting Core Values

Respect

Respect and tolerate others with different cultures, disabilities, sexual orientation, race/ethnicity, gender, age, socio-economic status, beliefs and opinions.

We can do this by:

- Turning our phones to silent when in class
- Calling the teacher by their first name
- Allowing others to voice their opinions
- Listening to others with respect
- Voicing our own opinions with respect
- Celebrating our differences

...and so much more

Rule of Law

You abide by all laws of the land. As long as you stay within the law, you are allowed to hold and share your own opinions and beliefs.

We can do this by:

- Abiding by the law
- Creating a Group Agreement
- Abiding by Luton Adult Learning's Learner Charter and other policies held by Luton Council, these can be found at:

www.lutonacl.ac.uk or www.luton.gov.uk

... and so much more

Individual Liberty

You have the right to share your opinions and views, however you should do so lawfully and respectfully.

You have the right to follow your beliefs as long as you do so respectfully, responsibly and stay within the law.

We can do this by:

- Expressing opinions in classroom discussions and activities – but we must do so responsibly with respect for others who hold different opinions and beliefs
- Respecting that others do not have to agree with our opinions or follow our beliefs

... and so much more

Democracy

You have a say, you can express your opinions.

In the UK, everyone above the age of 18 has the right of choice by voting in general and local elections. Your opinion counts, your vote can make a difference.

We can do this by:

- Encouraging our learners to express their opinions by giving us feedback about their learning experience
- Your opinion counts, your feedback makes a difference

(see the 'You Said, We Did' notice board in the Hub)

... and so much more